We would like to welcome Holly Briggs to the instructor line up with Holderness Recreation. Holly started out in O'Shea-Chaplin, a Boston area school in the early 2000's and then went on to dance at The Kelly School of Irish Dance. She has danced competition and performance style dancing as well as teaching both styles. She has been teaching in the Newfound Area for two years and currently has over 20 students. Holly is a member of WIDA, which is the World Irish Dance Association and we are very excited to offer this class.
